Stockholm, June 15.

ON Thurſday the 9th Inſtant the King of Sweden, accompanied by Field Marſhal Count Ducker, Lieutenant General Cronſtedt, and ſome other Officers, went down to view the new Fortifications that are making at the Caſtle of Waxholm, which guards the moſt important Paſſage of the River up to this City, and on Saturday in the Evening his Majeſty returned to the Palace of Carlberg. The ſame Day a Muſcovite Ship arrived here with ſome of Baron Cederhielm's Servants and others of his Retinue, who give an Account, that on the 3d of this Month they ſaw the Britiſh Squadron under the Command of Sir Charles Wager, lying at Anchor within a League of Revel; they alſo report, that ſome Days before they met a Frigate with Britiſh Colours ſtanding towards Cronſlot. And by Letters from Petersbourg of the 3d of this Month, which came two Days ago by the ordinary Finniſh Mail, we have Advice that his Britannick Majeſty's Ship the Port Mahon was come to Cronſlot, and had brought a Letter from his Majeſty to the Czarina, which was ſent up to Petersbourg. It was ſaid the Czarina intended to ſend an Anſwer to Admiral Wager, by a Frigate of her own.

Hague, July 9, *N.
